West Palm Beach, Fla., Aug. 29 (AP)—Southeast Florida began cleaning up its "gold coast" today in the wake of a great hurricane that left an estimated $40,000,000 damage.

The Red Cross opened disaster relief headquarters here and sent workers into other counties to survey the damage left by the thrashing wind and heavy rain. Robert C. Evans, general manager of the Florida citrus commission, estimated the citrus loss at 13,000,000 to 17,000,000 boxes worth $25,000,000 to $30,000,000.

Evans figured grapefruit losses at between 10 and 12 million boxes, and orange losses at about three to five million boxes. Tangerine damage was slight.

Hurricane hit was the lower Indian river section, in St. Lucie county, Dan McCarty, prominent Fort Pierce grower, put grapefruit losses there at 90 percent and orange damage at 65 to 70 percent.

"The storm was the worst we ever experienced in this section," McCarty said. "Loss to the citrus crop is the greatest in the history of the lower Indian river area."

The Red Cross counted 383 buildings destroyed and 14,698 damaged in Palm Beach county alone. It said 13,282 homes were damaged, of which 1,433 sustained major damage.

Hay Fever And Crops Flourish

Good Weather Bane To Sneezers

Lansing, Aug. 29 (AP)—The unusually good growing weather this summer was a blessing to Michigan's farmers, but a bane to the state's hay fever sufferers.

The cash crops flourished throughout the state, but so did the pesky ragweed that is the main cause of hay fever in Michigan.

State Health Department experts estimate the pollen count this summer to be 25 to 50 percent higher than in previous years. And the hay fever sufferers who wheeze and sneeze with watering eyes know they're in for just that much more torment this season.

Health department experts say the hay fever season started earlier this year and the pollen count has been running higher. The hay fever season started around Aug. 15. It's due to last until the first frost.

Generally, the pollen count is highest in the southern part of the state. The count decreases in the northern part of the lower peninsula. It is lower in the areas near the Great Lakes.

The Upper Peninsula is virtually pollen free and such cities as Sault Ste. Marie, St. Ignace, Marquette and Munising have counts so fractionally low that their residents have no hay fever problem.

Aviatrix Injured In Stunt At Flint

Flint, Mich., Aug. 29 (AP)—Performing in an act in which she pretended to be flying a plane by accident, woman flier Gloria Lynch, 27, of Dearborn, crashed and was seriously injured yesterday.

The veteran aviatrix suffered compound fractures of both legs when her two seater plane smashed into a concrete runway during the trans-American sky show at Bishop airport.

At Hurley hospital here physicians reported today she was in critical condition.

Miss Lynch, her hair in pigtails, had been introduced to the crowd of more than 7,000 persons as a 15-year-old girl who had won a free airplane ride.

As part of the act, Miss Lynch got into a warmed-up plane while the pilot went around to climb into the cockpit. Then, as the crowd gasped, she "accidentally" took off.

In yesterday's performance, Miss Lynch climbed to 50 feet, then suddenly nosed to the ground.

Polio Attack Fatal To Young Physician Who Fought Disease

Detroit, Aug. 29 (AP)—A young Pompeii, Mich., doctor died today of the disease he had fought so valiantly when it spread through his adopted state.

Death came to Dr. Karl Jones, Jr., 27, at 5:30 a. m. He had been rushed to Henry Ford hospital nine days before with infantile paralysis.

The young physician went to Pompeii in reply to an advertisement placed by the widow of Dr. B. C. Hall who had died recently. Dr. Jones was a native Oklahoman. He graduated from Northwestern university and first practiced in Fowlerville, Mich.

"It a terrible thing—the doctor stricken by the disease he fought so hard," said Mrs. Winifred Hall, at whose home he had lived.

Arms Aid Approved

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—Two Senate committees voted today to let European members of the Atlantic pact use part of President Truman's proposed $1,450,000,000 arms aid fund to build up their own arms production.

SLEEPER SUFFOCATED

"WILDCAT" VACATION?—Neither house of Congress may take a vacation without the consent of the other, but the House went right ahead and voted itself a vacation until Sept. 21. The Senate refused its okay, but that didn't stop the vacation-happy House. A few members will meet twice a week just long enough to vote themselves three-day extensions of leave. No other House business will be transacted. Above, Rep. Hugh Adonizio, right (D., N. J.), packs for his "wildcat" vacation, assisted by William M. Miller, House doorkeeper.

Riot Halts Robeson Concert; Negro Star Wants Investigation

New York, Aug. 29 (AP)—Back-ers of Paul Robeson plan to call on Gov. Thomas E. Dewey today and demand a probe of the riot that cancelled a concert by the Negro singer Saturday night.

Their demands—coming in a flurry of charges by Robeson and others—include the ouster of several Westchester county officials. Groups of Robeson supporters plan to call on Dewey and Attorney General Nathaniel Goldstein and make charges that the officials failed to give police protection at the riot scene near Peekskill, N. Y.

Robeson himself claimed the riot was part of a "national terror" and an attack on the Negro people, and he demanded that Dewey start an investigation.

The governor's office last night gave no hint of what his reply to the demands might be.

James C. Hagerty, Dewey's press secretary, said "we have received no official request for an investigation and we have no comment."

Robeson's followers charged that two officials aided an anti-Communist rally of veterans groups that preceded the three-hour riot.

A huge crowd, estimated at 5,000 persons, was caught up in the rioting battle, which raged in darkness in a wooded picnic grove where Robeson was scheduled to sing.

At least eight persons were injured, two seriously.

The concert was sponsored by a branch of the civil rights congress, labeled subversive by the justice department.

In protest against the concert, several veterans organizations staged a parade outside the picnic grove. The riot was set off when the parade and a crowd of concert-goers clashed on a road in the woods.

Rep. Vito Marcantonio, state chairman of the American labor party, said the attack on the concert "was organized with the direct knowledge and aid" of County Clerk Robert J. Field and Assistant District Attorney Leonard Rubinfeld.

One of the government bombs blew up a railroad bridge over the Rio Rocha river, about a mile outside Cochabamba, holding up trainloads of loyal soldiers from La Paz advancing against the rebels.

The revolt by violently Nationalist elements of both the army and civil population broke out Saturday. The middle-of-the-road government of acting President Mamerto Urriolagoitia said it is sparked by the outlawed NNR (National Revolutionary Movement) whose leaders it reported, have sneaked back from exile. They also were blamed for bloody rioting in the tin mines last May.

Senate Hopes To Cut Billions Off Budget

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—The Senate neared a vote on a proposed economy directive to President Truman today with backers elated by prospects that the issue will be decided by a simple majority vote.

Senate parliamentarians ruled that a unanimous agreement to vote at 1 p. m. (EST) locked the gate against raising a "point of order" which would require a two-thirds vote of senators present to approve the plan.

The proposal, sponsored by Senator McClellan (D-Ark.), is to order President Truman to save between $2,000,000,000 and $4,000,000,000 by chopping 5 to 10 per cent off funds Congress has appropriated for the 12 month period that began July 2.

McClellan claims it is backed by 23 Democrats and 37 Republicans. That is well over a majority—and just short of two-thirds—of the Senate's 96 members.

Democratic leader Lucas of Illinois, who has been fighting it, conceded that the plan would go through on a simple majority vote.

"We could beat this under a two-thirds vote but we can't by a simple majority," he told a reporter. Lucas added that "the whole thing is silly" because, he said, the House will throw it out or President Truman will veto it.

McClellan has offered his proposal as a "rider" to a bill carrying $14,800,000,000 for the armed services.

The Senate's rules forbid such "riders" and, ordinarily, they can be put in only by a two-thirds vote suspending the rules.

But the parliamentarian's view was that the agreement to vote ruled out a challenge to the rider as contrary to the rules.

Western Allies Map Cold War With Kremlin

Saving Of Asia From Reds Big Problem

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—Stalin's grip on the Communist satellite states has been reported sharply shaken by his row with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

That information comes in highly responsible reports reaching Washington from Eastern Europe. These reports are expected to play an important part in the meetings being scheduled for next month among Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Minister Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman.

SLAVS NOT WORRIED
Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Aug. 29 (AP)—Outwardly at least, Yugoslavia showed scant signs today of worry about the possibility of a shooting war with her Soviet-dominated neighbors.

The war of nerves in the Balkans apparently had the rest of the world more jittery than it did the people of this country—even though they are conscious of the possibilities.

Western diplomats forsee in these meetings a three-power review of the grand strategy of the cold war with Russia, followed by a determined effort to devise new moves against the Kremlin.

Bevin is due here in little more than a week, primarily to sit in on the British-American-Canadian economic talks.

China Written Off
Schuman's name has been brought into the picture only in the last few days, with word from Paris that he will arrive here well ahead of the Sept. 20 opening date for the United Nations general assembly in New York.

The review predicted that the East-West struggle will be divided into three major sections.

These, together with the most responsible estimates of the situation in each area, are:

1. The Far East—The Western Powers have taken a complete defeat in China. Acheson, Bevin and Schuman will be mostly concerned with trying to save the rest of Asia from Communism. Acheson may be expected to preach the American policy: more free play to non-Communist Nationalist movements in the countries around China.

2. Eastern Europe—Russian

Reuther Shooting Suspect Trailed By Detroit Police

Detroit, Aug. 29 (AP)—Detroit police are looking for a major suspect in the Victor Reuther shooting and Commissioner Harry S. Toy says he will be identified readily "when we lay our eyes on him."

Toy revealed Saturday that several teams of detectives are traveling around the country to locate the man and question him about the May 24 shotgun attack on the CIO United Auto Workers educational director.

Reuther lost his right eye in the shooting.

Toy said that a short time afterwards more than one neighbor saw two men drive past the Reuther home slowly in a car. Although none managed to get a good look at the driver, several gave police an excellent description of the passenger, he added.

The commissioner said the description fits none of the photographs in police criminal records.

Detectives hunting the man are concentrating on labor union meetings and Communist gatherings, Toy revealed.

Canton Worried By Red Thrust

Communists Threaten To Cut Rail Link

By SPENCER MOOSA

Canton, Aug. 29 (AP)—The Communists mounted a new threat to uneasy Canton today. They drove to the outskirts of Jucheng, 170 miles north of this Nationalist refugee capital.

The Red thrust, admitted by the ministry of national defense, put Gen. Liu Pe-Cheng's troops six miles from the Kwangtung province border and 45 from Kugong, key point on the Canton-Hankow railway.

If the Communists cut through to the railroad, the main supply line to the main central China defense force would be severed. Nationalist Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi's base is Hengyang, 265 miles north of Canton on the railway.

From Kugong, it is only 125 miles along the railroad to Canton. Kugong also is the objective of other Red armies pushing almost to Kwangtung province from the northeast in Kiangsi province. Here the Reds were reported only 140 miles from Canton and 55 east of Kugong.

The Communist push to Jucheng captured Kweiting as it coursed southward through Hunan province near the Kiangsi border.

On the southeast China coast, Red Gen. Chen Yi was reported moving six armies against the big port of Amoy, opposite Formosa. With his troops 45 miles away, the Nationalists were said to be throwing heavy reinforcements into Amoy.

Capture of Amoy, 330 miles northeast of Canton, would set up the Reds for an invasion of Kwangtung along the coast.

Local Barbershop Chorus Sings In District Contest

The Escanaba Chapter chorus of the S. P. B. S. Q. S. A. returned last night by chartered bus from the district chorus contests held in Sheboygan, Wisconsin Sunday afternoon, but because of a technicality did not place.

A rule of the organization is that any contesting chorus singing either a patriotic or religious number shall be considered as a non-contestant. The Escanaba chorus chose, as one of their two numbers, "The Calsons Go Rolling Along" under the impression that it was not a patriotic number. The contest judges ruled otherwise.

It was quite a bitter pill for the local chorus to take as they were advised by members of other choruses as well as officers of the district that had it not been for the selection in question Escanaba would have had an excellent chance for first place.

In the competition were choruses from Madison, Fond du Lac, Green Bay, Marinette, West Bend, Seymour, Wauwatosa, Sheboygan, Beaver Dam and Manitowish.

The Madison chorus who won first place in the contest in 1949 were judged the winning contestant for 1949.

Galax Plant Is Gathered

Mountain Folk Are Making Extra Money

Washington, D. C.—Spend the torrid summer days in the cool wildwood and make it pay.

Virginia and North Carolina mountain folks do. The fact is excursions into the woods have paid off so well for them they have developed a sort of free-for-all, wild-life industry they call "gallacking."

"Gallacking" is just mountaineer jargon for gathering the shiny, wavy-edged, heart-shaped leaves of the galax plant, says the National Geographic Society. Florists use the leaves year-round in displays and bouquets; housewives for table decorations and for yuletide wreaths.

Cities like Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, and New York take them by the thousands, and many others find their way into the retail markets of smaller towns and rural districts.

Swap for Groceries
Although a highly seasonal business, "gallacking" in some respects is perhaps the most pleasant and carefree of pursuits. Armed with a few tow sacks, the picker is strictly his own boss. He may work at whatever pace he wishes and gather as much as he likes.

Seldom, if ever, need he fret over competition, or the supplies running out. Since the plant is stripped only of its leaves, it grows in vast quantities over a large region year after year, and the market usually absorbs all that is picked. An experienced picker with a good back can cull 10,000 leaves in a day, but oldsters and youngsters alike can join in the work.

The average mountaineer takes his forest gleanings to the nearest storekeeper for groceries or cash. This middleman then ships the supply to a broker, who will either sell it to the market or put it in cold storage until demand improves.

Compete With Ivy Leaves
"Galacking" is a southern Appalachian monopoly. The plant grows only on mountain slopes from Virginia to Georgia. Galax, Virginia, derived its name from the plant.

Galax thrives best in a shady spot rich in cool, moist soil. When in bloom, from May through July, the leaves are a bright green, but as the plant ripens and frosts appear they turn a brilliant bronze color.

If chemically treated the leaves retain their bright colors and shape for weeks. Because of their keeping qualities, easy handling, and long stems they have to some extent replaced ivy leaves as decorations in parts of the country.

The leaves were first introduced into the florist trade in 1890. Since plants under cultivation might average less than one perfect leaf, it is not considered profitable to grow galax on a commercial scale. Any speck or wormhole renders the leaves unfit for marketing.

Mountain folk say the plant does best in a wild state out in the woods, anyway.

Adventists End Camp Meeting

Pictures On Poland Among Highlights

Highlights of the Seventh-day Adventist general camp meeting at the church south of Wilson on Saturday and Sunday were talks and films presented by Russian-born Elder M. S. Krietzky, who recently returned from a seven-month stay as a relief secretary and seminary director in Poland.

The general camp meeting for the U. P.-Northern Wisconsin district, of which Elder W. B. Pontynen of Houghton is president, opened Thursday and closed with services last night.

Elder Krietzky, served a pastorate in North Dakota before accepting a call to go to Poland, behind the Iron Curtain, to re-establish a Seventh-day Adventist seminary.

Because of difficulties in getting a visa to Poland, Elder Krietzky said he had to wait several weeks in New York. He did obtain a visa however, in Copenhagen. During his entire stay in Poland, Elder Krietzky said, his visa had to be renewed every 30 days. On one occasion when holidays intervened, Reverend Krietzky said he lived in fear for seven days because he could not get his visa renewed.

Krietzky told the assembled Adventists that he was impressed with the Polish people, their sincerity and honesty. And throughout Europe, he said, he was impressed with the desire of all to avoid war.

"During the first four months in Poland, Elder Krietzky said, 'I lost considerable weight and tightened my belt seven notches. Food was scarce. For breakfast we had black bread and coffee and for supper the same thing. Dinners for months were comprised only of potatoes, beans and sauerkraut.'

"Czechoslovakians traveled as much as 10 miles to come across the border into Poland to attend our religious services," he reported. "Travel in that sector is very difficult," Krietzky reported. "Trains have no windows or lights, and passports are difficult to obtain."

Elder Krietzky's 2400 feet of moving pictures filmed on his journey included scenes of departure from the United States, and crossing the Atlantic; many scenes of Denmark and Stockholm and Upsala, including the universities and Seventh-day Adventist schools and homes for the aged in those countries; his crossing on the Baltic sea and the first surprise he saw in Poland; the ruins of Danzig, Warsaw and Mladanek concentration camp, told of 40 German officers who had been in charge of the Oswiecim concentration camp near Krakow, church meetings, the Labor Day celebration and parade in Gdynia on May 1, 1948 and other items of interest.

Among speakers who participated in the camp programs on Saturday and Sunday, in addition to Elder Krietzky, were L. E. Lenheim, Lake Union conference president; C. M. Bucy, a for-

Radio Telephones On State Ferries

Lansing, Aug. 29 (P)—Radio telephones have been installed on the four state ferries operating across the Straits of Mackinac, the state highway department said today.

Although the telephones have a range of 200 miles, they will be used principally for contact in the Straits area so the vessels can keep in touch with each other, the ferry offices and other vessels passing through the Straits.

Mer Abbott laboratory official who is now president of the Adventist publishing department; Hugh Forquer of Lansing who is in charge of the Michigan book and Bible house and was in charge of the special $5,000 display of Bibles at the camp meeting; and Mrs. H. W. Kleist of Chicago, director of the Illinois state federation of Dorcas societies.

About 1000 attended the weekend sessions of the first U. P. general Seventh-day Adventist camp meeting. G. E. Hutches, Michigan conference president, attended the sessions.

Mobile Blood Unit Coming

Large Supply Needed For Public Use

Residents of Delta County will have the opportunity to replenish the exhausted blood plasma supply in this county when the Michigan State Health Department mobile blood plasma unit comes to Escanaba Sept. 19 to 21, and to Gladstone, Sept. 22 and 23. The Delta County Red Cross chapter is supervising the program and recruiting donors. The need for blood plasma is so great, that it is the personal responsibility of every resident in this county to donate a pint of blood while the unit is here.

The age limit of blood donors has been raised. Now, any person between the ages of 18 and 60, who is in good health may donate a pint of blood. Each pint of blood that is given in this county is credited to the county and is used as needed. There has never been a time when the supply exceeded the demand, and since the war the supply has become exhausted. To replenish this supply, the mobile blood unit is touring the entire state so that each county may build up its own supply.

Register At Red Cross
The mobile unit will be at the Junior High School in Escanaba and at the high school, in Gladstone. Registrations of names are being received at the American Red Cross office in Escanaba and at the Empson Insurance Agency in Gladstone. Anyone registering now will receive a time arrangement suitable to them and of their choice.

There is an important card issued to each blood donor, which gives his type blood and RH factor. This little card may save a donor's life, if, in an emergency he required a blood transfusion or was to give one directly. Knowing your blood type means that you can receive or give blood without the lengthy blood tests necessary if this information is not known. The time element alone in such emergencies may save a life. The RH factor is especially important in child birth cases.

Medical Staff With Unit
Medical science has found that most normally healthy people, male or female, can safely give a pint of blood. There is no pain involved, no ill after effects, and the pint that is donated is replaced within a short time. The medical staff accompanying the mobile unit is adequate to take care of all the donors a community can provide.

Michigan Happenings In Washington

Former governor Murray D. Van Wagoner, now military governor of Bavaria, comments three ex-governors—Osborn, Comstock and Murphy have died since he "went into exile."

Maybe he isn't feeling so well either since his vacation trip to Venice. A tank of gasoline burst into flames, almost capsizing his boat, but the entire Van Wagoner party was rescued by a nearby yacht and taken to the Excelsior Hotel on the Lido.

And that wasn't exactly a "healthy" blast of scornful words he fired at the anti-Jewish Nazi forces in Germany during the recent pre-election riot in Munich.

This has nothing to do, naturally, with his just tendered formal resignation to John McCloy, now United States Military Governor. His promise "to stay two years"

Steam Locomotives On The Way Out

R. L. Williams, president of the Chicago and North Western railroad, said in Green Bay the other day that the North Western road will not buy any more steam locomotives.

"The Diesel's the best buy," Williams said in hinting that Green Bay would be selected as a concentration point for the repair of all C&NW steam engines and cars.

The announcement by the president of the railroad is not exactly startling. The North Western and other roads have been steadily concentrating on Diesel powered locomotives for both passenger and freight hauls. Only recently the North Western experimented with heavy ore freight hauls in the Upper Peninsula with the use of a Diesel locomotive. Apparently what they learned from that test has convinced the company officials that the day of the steam locomotive is drawing to an end.

Mr. Williams said some things in his Green Bay visit about the business outlook in this country that are of interest to people in this area, too. He revealed that the North Western road, like business in general, is reducing its inventory stocks by about three million dollars in what he called an economic adjustment.

He emphasized, however, that the period of adjustment does not mean the beginning of a depression. Rather, Williams said, the country is headed for a period of prosperity and pointed to heavy bank deposits in support of his theory.

Pneumonia Worse Killer Than Polio

THE National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis reports that although the half-way point in the polio epidemic has not yet been reached, 1949 is certain to be the worst polio year in the nation's history.

The report is disappointing in view of the tremendous efforts being concentrated to lick this child-killer, but there are, nevertheless, some satisfaction to be gained from the report. It is revealed, for instance, that despite an upsurge in the number of cases, the death rate is on the decline. Furthermore, facilities for treating polio victims are improved.

The situation in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan has not been as aggravated this year as it has in several past seasons which, of course, is due to good luck more than any other cause because no method has yet been found to develop immunity against the disease.

It is proper that great concentration of funds and talents be directed against the fight on polio, but to overlook some of the more serious causes of deaths among children is short sighted.

For instance, accidents cause 42 times as many deaths as does polio and certainly far more children are maimed for life as a result of accidents than as a result of infantile paralysis.

In the field of diseases, pneumonia claims 14 times as many lives of children under the age of 14 as does polio.

The fear of polio is genuine enough but it should not create a fear anything like a fear of pneumonia, or a fear of accidents.

Stream Pollution Still A Big Problem

THE new state water resources commission, which replaces the stream control commission, has served notice that it will not take lightly its responsibilities for alleviating the sewage pollution problem in Michigan waters.

The new commission has greater enforcement powers than its predecessor and also has a wider scope of operation. If the commissioners mean what they say, a lot of cities that have been winking at state laws covering water pollution apparently are headed for trouble.

The dumping of untreated sewage into public bodies of water, directly into Lake Michigan or streams, has long been recognized as a menace to public health and the cause of a tremendous waste of a vital natural resource.

Cities are not the only offenders. Many industries also are responsible for water pollution through the dumping of refuse and industrial wastes into rivers and streams or directly into Lake Michigan.

Experience has shown that many cities have no intention of ending water pollution and that they will not act to do so unless required by the state. It is the duty of the new commission to exert pressures against those communities and to utilize the powers granted to them by the state to achieve definite results.

Without A Shot Being Fired

IN the words of Herbert Hoover, "The battles for the bureau must be overcome by sheer force of public opinion if our free system is to be saved for future generations." This is a grim warning from a public figure who knows what he is talking about. It is lent fresh emphasis by the fact that the federal government is again spending far more money than it is collecting from taxpayers — conservative estimates place the deficit this year in the neighborhood of $5,000,000,000.

It is difficult for some to appreciate the almost mathematical relationship between the financial status of government and the political status of the people. Our taken-for-granted privilege of going to the polls periodically to vote as conscience and common sense dictate is part of the free system of which Mr. Hoover speaks. It can exist only so long as the great majority of individuals are able to exercise their franchise of citizenship without fear of reprisal. And the term reprisal does not necessarily mean a firing squad.

As a country becomes submerged in bureaucratic government, as public debt accumulates and the money depreciates, as normal productive activities are increasingly disrupted by excessive taxation and regulation, as the rolls of public employees lengthen, the vitality of the free system withers. If the process continues long enough the people with a vested interest in bureaucracy become a majority and the effectiveness of elections is lost. Thus the free system is obliterated amid a chorus of good intentions without a shot being fired.

Other Editorial Comments

THIS IS MINNESOTA! (Minneapolis Star)

Minnesota has been getting generous attention lately in national magazines—partly because this is our territorial centennial year. But the hot spot is the leading article in the September issue of the National Geographic magazine, out this week: 48 pages of narrative and of black-and-white and color pictures about our state.

Every Minnesotan who takes intelligent pride in his commonwealth—no matter how much he may think he already knows about it—will be a prouder and better-informed citizen for reading it.

Nothing has been written by an outsider, probably, which catches so well the spirit and genius of mid-twentieth-century Minnesota. Its title, "Minnesota Makes Ideas Pay," suggests its insight.

Other states have fields as fecund, scenery as lovely, people as ambitious and devoted. The thing that distinguishes Minnesota, says the author, is its "ingenious enterprises"—the capacity of its inhabitants for hatching new ideas and developing them.

In proof the National Geographic cites such distinctive Minnesota businesses as the harvesting of Christmas trees for a national market from the tops of stunts bog spruce; carp canning; precision instrument making; reclamation of iron from taconite; production of maple syrup from corn cobs—and such native Minnesota enterprises as Toni, Burma Shave, Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing (Scotch tape, Scotchlite, etc.), Minneapolis Honeywell, General Mills, Land O'Lakes, Brown and Bigelow, Pillsbury, the Mayo clinic. . .

This approach to the story of Minnesota will please Minnesotans not just because it is such good publicity, but because it is what discerning Minnesotans themselves have seen about the nature of Minnesota's greatness. All the qualities that we, as Minnesotans, are proud of in the people of our state—their good neighborliness, their high productivity, their concern for grace in living as well as for sheer accomplishment—tie into this quality of ingeniousness, this zest and knack we possess for finding new ways to do things and new things to do to enrich life.

As is often the case, we shall understand ourselves and our potentialities better because an objective outsider has come into our midst and interpreted us so well to ourselves.

For that, as well as for this further spreading of the state's fame throughout the nation and the world, Minnesota accords a deeply grateful bow to the National Geographic magazine, and to its able, experienced Frederick G. Vosborough, author of the article.

READERS' CORNER

Q. Please explain what is meant by "ad lib."—C. H.

A. It's the abbreviation of the Latin phrase ad libitum, meaning, "at pleasure, at liberty." Among musicians and show people, "ad lib." means "to insert a passage or remark that departs from or is in addition to the written part." Comedians, such as Fred Allen and Bob Hope, who are adept in extemporaneous witticisms, are known in show business as expert "ad libbers."

Q. I contend that there are no such designations as "12:00 A. M." and "12:00 P. M.," but it is either "12 midnight" or "12 noon." Please discuss.

A. In telling time, the sun is supposed to be at its meridian (highest point) at noon. The morning hours are designated as a. m. (or A. M.) for ante meridiem (before the meridian). The hour after noon, up to and including midnight, are designated as p. m. (or P. M.) for post meridiem (after the meridian).

The proper designation for noon, says the U. S. Government Style Manual, is 12 m. (12 meridiem). Midnight should be written thus: 12 P. M. Immediately after the instant of midnight, the hours become A. M., as: 12:01 A. M., 12:15 A. M., etc.

Democrats Are Too Confident

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—The Democrats are behaving these days the way the Republicans used to behave. Order and calm and regularity prevail. The signals are carefully arranged in advance and the players move like clockwork when the quarterback calls them off.

That has just been illustrated here in the meeting of the Democratic national committee. In the past a proposal to fire rebellious Southern Democrats would have precipitated a quarrel that would have lasted well into 1950.

But the committee kicked out the Dixiecrats without a ripple of dissension. The old-timers with nostalgic memories of the era when Democrats shouted imprecations at each other in public went away disappointed. After all, it was only 25 years ago that the Democratic party in that marathon session in Madison Square Garden seemed bent on suicide with the South. The North argued for one method and the South for another.

WANTED DIXIECRATS OUT

There are lots of reasons why the Democrats should meet with the solemn unanimity of a conclave of old guard Republicans in, say, 1925. Success and prosperity are powerful persuaders. President Truman wanted the Dixiecrats put out and the committee did his bidding.

While that is not the whole story, it is most of it. The retiring chairman, J. Howard McGrath, laid the ground work for it. William M. Boyle, Jr., the new chairman, was a willing collaborator.

A good argument can be made that the step was inevitable in any event. The Dixiecrats, and in particular Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, already had left the party. All that remained was to ratify their departure.

Nevertheless, there were important influences within the party in favor of a compromise. Other southerners were for talking the rebels back and smoothing over the quarrel of last fall. They argued that it would make for harmony and southern support for controversial legislation, excepting, of course, the Truman civil rights proposals.

But even if McGrath and Boyle had wanted to compromise, which they didn't, it would have been impossible. Once the president gets set on a course, he can be as stubborn as the donkey that is the symbol of the party. And the president will not soon forget the threat of the Dixiecrats to keep him from re-election.

In his speech accepting the chairmanship, Boyle sounded as though he were nominating his great and good friend, Harry S. Truman, for another term in the White House. He told the faithful that the president would not falter until he had carried through his program—which was to bring peace and security to the American people in the second half of the unhappy twentieth century. That is a large order even for a man who comes of such long-lived stock as the president.

BOYLE WORKED HARD

Boyle has been demonstrating lately that he can go to bat for the president's program on Capitol Hill. He worked hard to help line up the senate vote to restore cuts in appropriations for public power. The appropriations had been chiseled out in committee through the influence of the power lobby and Boyle persuaded several senators to back the president in the floor fight. The administration won that fight.

Incidentally, there is some resentment in Democratic headquarters that the official whose department is most involved in the power fight, Secretary of Interior Julius Krug, should be vacationing in Wisconsin while the contest was on. A dim view was taken last fall over Krug's remote-control participation in the presidential campaign.

But in spite of the unpleasant headlines made by his military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, the president reflects the confidence of his party. The party treasury is in healthy shape, thanks to contributors who wanted to get on the bandwagon after last November's victory and thanks, too, to the institution of the Jackson Day dinners.

A successful Democratic conference in Des Moines was carefully planned to appeal to the midwestern farm vote. A similar conference is to be held next month in San Francisco to try to consolidate the party's position on power, reclamation, and so on in the western states.

In his speech, Boyle spoke about the party being turbulent and turbulence being one of "the symptoms of a living, growing organism." But in actuality the old turbulence, the storm and strife of another day, were not apparent. Success, as the Republicans demonstrated, can bring a kind of complacency that finally spells defeat.

Q. Is it correct to say, "Her sorrows were born in silence"?—Mrs. W. T.

A. No. Best usage restricts born to the meaning of "having been given birth to." Better say: Her sorrows were borne in silence.

Wrong: "He was borne in California." This is a common error. Do not add -ed to form a past tense, for born itself is the past participle of the verb "to bear," as also is borne.

Better say: He was born in California.

Wrong: She was born by a mother of Spanish blood. No. When followed by the word "by," the correct form to use is "borne." Therefore: She was borne by a mother of Spanish blood.

Q. I could hardly believe my eyes when I read in your column that much water had "flowed" over the dam. My, my! You should have said ". . . flown over the dam."—Dr. W. P.

A. Sorry; "flown" is the past participle of fly, thus fly, flew, flown. Water doesn't fly, it flows: flow, flowed, flowing.

it flows flow, flowed, flowed.

"Look, They're Shaking Their Fists at Me!"

Hollywood

By Eiskine Johnson

Hollywood, (NEA)—Montgomery Clift, picked as the world's most eligible bachelor by a jury of Hollywood glamor dolls, chided his press agent, George Evans, with this cable from Berlin:

"Realize I'm the worst-dressed actor in Hollywood but appreciate your efforts trying to get me to buy some clothes. But please explain why I am now 'world's most eligible bachelor' and I own only two suits!"

Evans cabled back: "You win."

Talked to Lou Costello in the U. I. commissary. His long illness cost him 50 pounds but he looks years younger. He whispered: "I'm going up to the story department and see if I can find some old Donald O'Connor scripts." Martha Raye and Harry Richman, co-stars in an eastern night club, are carrying on a real feud. Won't even speak off working hours. . . M-G-M is planning a new version of "Boys Town" to star Claude Jarman, Jr.

Barbara Hale may inherit some of Rita Hayworth's roles at Columbia as a result of her click in "Jolson Sings Again." The picture will be as lucky for her as the original was for Larry Parks.

Harry Cohn, meanwhile, is still offering Rita 50 per cent of the profit on "Born Yesterday" if she'll come back and do the picture. But there's still no answer.

Same Old Routine

June Haver wants a change of pace. No more volume-period pictures, please, she's telling her studio bosses. June has starred in 11 films. Nine of them have been period backgrounds.

"Really," she said, "every time I hear an old song I start thinking about when I was young."

June is back in costume for "The Daughter of Rosie O'Grady." In one scene she puts on a red wig and plays her own mother. Which was a great blow to Rosemary DeCamp. It's one mother role she missed.

The star and Dr. John Dusik will marry as soon as her religion gives its approval to her civil divorce. The doc is turning her into an outdoor girl. They play golf every Sunday and go fishing and hunting together. She even won a silver cup in the 20th Century-Fox studio club golf tournament.

Kirk Douglas and Benno Ruyshy, who rounds the piano at the Dells, collaborated on a song, "The Lady Has No Heart." I guess it's strictly coincidental that Kirk is separated from his wife, Diana. But both Diana and Kirk will be in New York this fall and there may be a reconciliation.

Red Skelton will do a walk through, as a gag, in the Milton Berle picture. Jerry Wald has a quick explanation for his long run of box-office hits. "I just don't produce TTT pictures." The three T's stand for tried, true and trite. Wald explains: "You just can't make 'em any more. Audiences want something new."

Has That Strange Feeling

Ginger Rogers, I hear, has a hit in "Perfect Strangers," opposite Dennis Morgan. It's got that old "One Way Passage" feeling. Odd that Ginger's name will go up on a marquee with "Perfect Strangers" now that she and Jack Briggs have decided to become just that.

The film industry launched its "What's Right With the Movies" campaign with a street parade of beauty contest winners, bands and floats in Little Rock, Ark. It's the opening gun to put showmanship

Congratulations

Dear Editor:

I am not acquainted with Janet Dixon, or Manley Anderson, but I'd like to use the Public Forum to congratulate each of them on Janet's winning first place at the Chicago Music Festival last week.

Janet, you are twice blessed. First, you are blessed with exceptional talent. This talent of yours could have lain quite dormant, however, had you not been blessed with a good teacher, who recognized your ability, was thrilled by it, and did his best to promote you, so that you could receive the honors and awards which were due you.

Mr. Anderson, may I congratulate you, too? You are the kind of teacher we'd like all teachers to be. Your happiness and satisfaction in Janet's success is as great as her own, I am sure, because the faith you have in your pupil has been justified.

Sincerely,
A Former School Teacher.

75% Income Tax

Dear Editor:

I do not believe that Teen-age children are our Number One problem today. I think it is the greedy adult. By that I mean men who are more than financially able to retire and married women who do not need to work.

The simple solution to both would be a 75% Income Tax which can be used to finance WPA and Direct Relief which will be necessary if they continue to work.

Yes, these are the people who will drive our younger generation to Crime and Communism!

Yours truly,
Mrs. Frank Mullaly,

This year and next year, more of us, perhaps many more of us, will go broke individually than in the years just past. Because, in the first place, there are more of us. ## The Washington Merry-Go-Round

(Editor's Note—While Drew Pearson is on vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round will be written by his old partner, Robert S. Allen.)

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN

Washington.—President Truman doesn't know it yet, but he has another brawl on his hands to get senate confirmation for an appointee to a key defense post.

The appointee is Carl Ilgenfritz, U. S. Steel corporation vice-president, to be chairman of the army-navy munitions board.

The fight over Ilgenfritz is the battle over ex-Governor Mon Wallgren (for chairman of the national security resources board) all over again, plus some new trimmings.

The latter is Ilgenfritz's insistence that he be allowed to continue to draw his $70,000-a-year U. S. Steel pay as well as the $14,000 that goes with the munitions board job. His argument is he will lose his pension rights if he gives up his corporation salary.

Strongly backing him are Defense Secretary Louis Johnson, Sen. Millard Tydings, D., Md., chairman of the armed services committee, and Sen. Chan Gurney, N. D., ranking Republican member of the committee. In a stormy appearance before the committee, Johnson stated the proposed extraordinary salary arrangement has President Truman's approval.

As a senator during the war, the president repeatedly condemned the employment of $1-a-year men.

Leading the fight against Ilgenfritz are Sens. Harry Byrd, D., Va., Lyndon Johnson, D., Tex., and Wayne Morse, R., Ore. The last two tangled hotly with Secretary Johnson at a closed-door meeting.

Permitting this man to continue to draw his private salary while working for the government would be unsound public policy," Senator Johnson argued. "It would do more harm than any good the government could possibly get out of Ilgenfritz."

Morse was equally emphatic. He told Johnson:

"Democracy can be no stronger than the confidence of the people in their government. This appointment will shake that confidence to its roots."

"It is indefensible that the head of this board with vast power over steel and other materials of defense should be subsidized by the dominant steel interests of the country. I am not sure that we should permit any man to hold this job who has connections with the steel industry, but I am sure we should not confirm a man who fails to break his bonds with his private industry when he takes this key office."

To these arguments, Secretary Johnson countered with the contention that Ilgenfritz is "indispensable."

"That indispensable doctrine is absurd," snapped Morse. "It is ridiculous to say there is only one man for that job out of 150,000,000 Americans. If you will look around, you will find other men just as good who will not insist on salaries from outside sources all out of proportion to what other citizens expect their government to pay them. I will never agree that the patriotism of American businessmen has a price tag on it."

A majority of the senate committee favors confirmation. But Byrd and the others have served notice they will wage a bitter floor fight. With the senate log-jammed by a huge stack of unfinished business, the outlook for Ilgenfritz is not promising.

WHITE SAWMILL— White Sawmill Ghost Proves To Be Old Cow

Flemington, N. J. (AP)—A white ghost with eyes like burning coals, dragging a clanking chain around an abandoned sawmill here turned out to be just an old cow.

Alcoholic tax unit agents, following up a tip in a local newspaper column, investigated the ghost story on the theory that unghostly bootleggers might be using the old sawmill for a still.

The agents looked over the sawmill and checked a nearby farm.

The written report submitted by the investigators ended this way:

"Just as I was about to leave the farm," the agent in charge wrote, "I heard a clanking chain and some clattering hoofs coming up behind me.

"I jumped just in time to avoid being bowled over by a cow. She was pure white and her eyes seemed to glow like burning coals.

"The chain around her neck was attached to a log which was supposed to impede her progress, but it didn't seem very effective.

"The last I saw of her was a ghostly white streak disappearing up the side of the mountain."

The whole affair started when a local columnist reported a 'male and female ghost in Hagaman's sawmill,' and such phenomena as phosphorous light, the klop, of ghostly horses' hoofs, and the rattle of chains.

Someone clipped the item and sent it to the alcoholic tax unit without comment.

St. Petersburg, Fla. Family Mausoleum Furnished For Public

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—A little red brick mausoleum in Greenwood cemetery here is attracting considerable attention nowadays.

The last resting place of Mrs. Beulah Acklin, it is open to the public. It's furnished like a living room. There are two chrome pipe chairs, ash trays, a wire recorder outfit, electric lights, religious mottoes, and a register in which more than 1800 visitors have written their names.

Florescent red and yellow lights are hung in the corners. Mrs. Acklin's first name is outlined in blue neon script letters six inches high in back of the casket.

Roy Acklin, 54, formerly a mail carrier, built the monument. He visits it almost daily, working among the flowers or sitting inside reading. Sometimes he visits the place at night, turning on all the lights, including a spotlight which illuminates a mass of potted plants.

Each Wednesday night Acklin holds open house and explains the unusual features of the place.

Of the wire recorder he says: "So many people come here I have to explain over and over again. So I made a record of my words. When a bunch of people come in I turn on the recorder and save my voice."

Of the electric lights he says: candles are often used on caskets; he just substituted neons.

"Why they often put names of people on tombstones a foot high. The letters on that neon sign aren't that big."

"There is nothing wrong with the smoking stands, either. When she was alive she was impatient with women who made their husbands go smoke in the den or someplace. So I don't mind people smoking near her body. That's just what she would have wanted them to do if she were alive."

Olson-Dittrich Ceremony At St. Paul's Church

An arch of greens and white gladioli decorated the altar of St. Paul's Ev. Lutheran church at Hyde for the wedding Saturday afternoon of Evelyn Marie Olson, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Dahlin of Bark River and Clarence O. Dittrich of Hyde, son of Mrs. Rose Dittrich. Arranged with the arch were baskets of varied colored gladioli at either side of the altar.

Rev. A. A. Schabow performed the double ring ceremony at 3:30 o'clock. Melvin McDonald, who was soloist, sang "O Perfect Love" and "Wedding Prayer" and the traditional bridal procession and recessional were played by Mrs. Max Newman, organist.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Edwin Olson, wore ice blue satin, the gown styled with a fitted bodice, long sleeves coming to points over the hands, and a tiered peplum skirt which formed a long train. Her ice blue veil was gathered to a tiara of tiered satin of the same shade and she carried a crescent bouquet of white gladioli. The bridesmaids, Miss Joanne Iverson, niece of the bride, and Miss Edna Dittrich, the bridegroom's sister, wore identical gowns of yellow taffeta with drop shoulder net yokes, fitted bodices and flower trimmed hoop skirts and tiaras of yellow taffeta of lattice design and they carried crescent bouquets of bittersweet and orange gladioli.

Reinhold Bittner and Ralph Kramer of Chicago were Mr. Dittrich's attendants and Robert John Olson, another brother of the bride, and Francis Dittrich ushered.

Mrs. Dahlin wore a two piece black crepe dress with black accessories and a white gladioli corsage for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Dittrich wore a gray crepe print with black accessories and a like corsage.

A wedding dinner was served sixty guests at the Dells and a reception for 250 guests was held at Unity hall.

Today's Recipes

Here is a group of plum recipes that will help fill the shelves in your fruit cellar.

Plum Butter
Remove the pits from Italian plums. Crush fruit and cook in its own juice until soft, stirring constantly. Press through a collander to remove skins and to make a smooth consistency. Measure the sieved fruit then add one-half as much sugar as fruit. Boil rapidly and stir constantly to prevent scorching. When the butter cooks down and begins to thicken, reduce the heat. Cook in small batches of not more than 4 cups pulp for faster preparation. Test for doneness by putting a small amount out on a cold plate. When thick enough, the juice will not separate from the edge of the butter. Pour while hot into sterilized jars to within 1/4 inch of top of jar. Seal at once. Spices may be added if desired, using 1 to 2 teaspoons of spices to each gallon of butter.

Prune Jam
4 cups chopped Italian plums
3 cups sugar
Grated rind of 1 lemon
1/2 cup of almonds, if desired
To the stoned, chopped plums, add the sugar, grated lemon rind and juice. Mix together and bring slowly to boil. Boil rapidly until thick. If desired, 1/2 cup blanched, chopped almonds may be added to jam 2 to 3 minutes before removing from heat. Pour in hot, sterilized jars and seal at once.

Spiced Plum Jam
6 cups Italian plums (2 1/2 to 3 lbs.)
3 cups sugar
3/4 cup vinegar
1/4 cup vinegar
1 tablespoon cloves
1 tablespoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon mace
Wash, halve and pit the plums. Combine the fruit with the remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil and cook gently until the consistency of jam. This will require about 45 to 60 minutes. When thickened to proper consistency, pour at once into hot sterilized jars to within 1/4 inch from top of jar. Seal at once. Makes about 6 half-pints.

Plum Preserves
5 lbs. Italian plums (about 45) Sugar
Wash, halve and pit the plums then cut or chop the plums coarsely and measure. For each quart of plums, add 3 1/2 cups sugar. Let stand for 1 hour. Place in preserving kettle and bring to a boil, cooking slowly for about 1 hour or until thickened, stirring frequently. When thickened to proper consistency, skim quickly and pour at once into hot sterilized jars to within 1/4 inch from top of jar. Seal at once. Makes about 8 half-pints.

Sohlberg Quits As Loan Sec'y

Served Farmers Of Area 32 Years

After 32 years service to farmers of this area during which he handled loans totalling more than four million dollars, A. Theodore Sohlberg, prominent Gladstonian, is retiring Sept. 1 as a national farm loan secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Sohlberg's first service in this capacity came in 1917 when he served as secretary-treasurer of the Bark River National Farm Loan association organized the same year. It originally operated in Bark River and Harris Townships.

In 1924 he became secretary-treasurer of the Bay-Noc National Farm Loan association which operated county-wide and handled a floor of applications for the FLE and L. Bank Commission or Loans. RAC loans were also handled from 1933 to 1936.

The 1936 saw the grouping of 13 associations in five counties in one office established at Gladstone. These associations were subsequently consolidated into one association known as the Cloverland National Farm Loan association.

Since 1940 there has been a heavy liquidation of loans and the number of units has been reduced from about 1500 in 1936 to about 500 at the present time.

The hardtimes of the early thirties brought about a serious accumulation of farms by foreclosure and during the period from 1936 to 1948 the local office handled about 300 farms. All acquired farms have been sold and no real estate is presently owned by the bank in any of the five counties.

The 11th annual loan inventory and consequent reduction in income prompted the proposal to establish a single office for the Upper Peninsula. This is to be established in Escanaba with Albert Kinnon of Houghton as secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Sohlberg retires to reassume a place in the Bay-Noc Real Estate and Insurance Agency managed by Ross P. Davis. His justice of peace office also will be located in the same place.

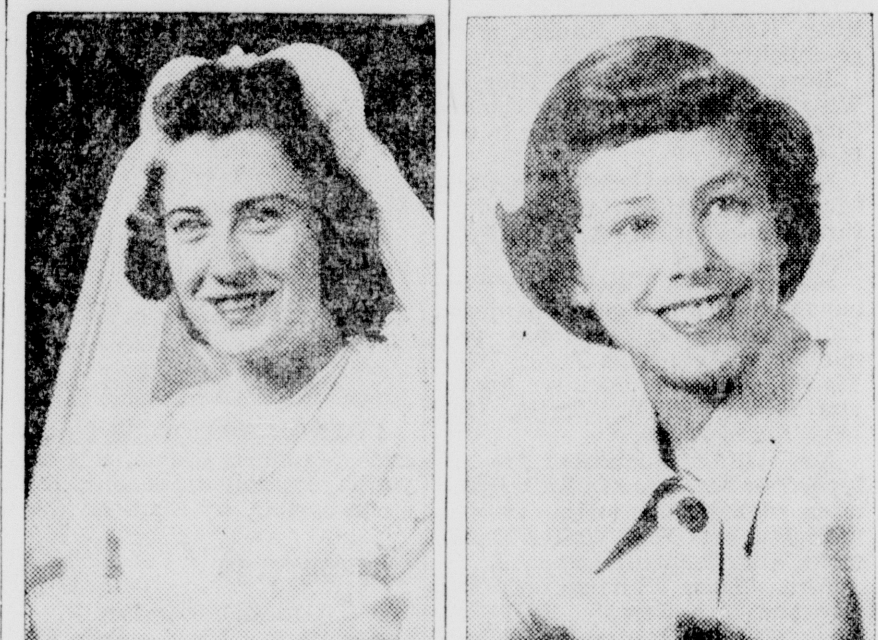

The resignation of Mr. Sohlberg was accepted with reluctance and regret by the Board of Directors of the association and Mr. Sohlberg has been the recipient of many expressions of good will from all parts of the territory.

Fire Destroys Old Ice House

Soo Line Building Burns To Ground

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed an old Gladstone landmark, the Soo Line ice house, located between the railroad depot and the roundhouse late Saturday afternoon. The loss is undoubtedly covered by insurance, Sup't A. C. Peterson said yesterday.

The structure had been unused for about 10 or 12 years when the railroad began contracting with Gus Lierman, local ice man, to ice the trains, morning and evening.

Previous to that time and for many decades, the railroad contracted with someone to fill the house with ice each winter for use the remainder of the year.

The blaze was discovered by Sup't Peterson who saw flames emerging from air vents at the top of the structure as he left the depot about 4:30 Saturday afternoon. He caused an alarm to be sent in but the entire interior was a mass of flames when the trucks arrived and efforts to save the building were futile.

Firemen were handicapped by lack of hydrant pressure at that point but from the start the flames had gained, it is doubtful if any amount of pressure could have been of any avail.

They remained at the scene for several hours after the structure collapsed wetting down the burning timbers and sawdust which filled the building and walls and then it was decided to let it burn with watchmen in attendance to see that it did not spread.

How the blaze started is unknown. Section men and other railroad employees have at times chased away youngsters who used to use it as a smoking hideaway, but no youths or itinerants were seen in the vicinity Saturday. Spontaneous combustion was not a possibility nor could it have been from wiring for the only electrical wire at the building was on the outside and evidence shows the blaze started on the interior of the building.

Four Escape Harm When Car Overturns

None was injured when an auto driven by George Desotelle, St. Joseph, Mich., and occupied by three other passengers overturned near the "Y" on US 2-41 early Sunday morning.

Christ Ruppel of St. Joseph was the owner of the auto driven by Desotelle. Passengers in it were Leonard, Robert and Gerald Willis.

The four-door Studebaker Commander sedan (shown) was among the company's new 1950 passenger car models acclaimed recently at private previews in several metropolitan centers. Front end design of the new Studebakers is particularly striking. The sweeping lines are carried from the "spinner" straight through to the light-streamed rear fenders.

The new exterior beauty of the 1950 Studebaker passenger cars is shown in this view of the Champion convertible. Richly appointed interiors keep pace with an advanced design which gives the cars sweeping new lines. Studebaker-designed coil spring front suspension provides peak riding and handling ease.

New 1950 Studebaker passenger car models are now being displayed in the showrooms of Farmers Implement Co., 162 River St., Manistique.

"These are the automobiles which generated so much enthusiasm when they were previewed privately in New York and Chicago recently," according to R. J. Rouck and A. R. Knauf. "These new cars are so entirely different in appearance that it is difficult to do them justice by trying to describe them," he said. "I am particularly anxious for the people of this area to visit our sales rooms and see for themselves."

The front end of the 1950 Studebaker is especially striking. Mr. Rouck pointed out. It embodies an airplane fuselage-type hood, flanked by air-foil front fenders and set off by a chrome "spinner." In addition to providing an ornamental touch, the "spinner" augments four frontal openings which direct air to the engine for maximum cooling. The largest of these air passages consists of two oval-shaped honeycomb grille scoops located below the two smaller air channels which flank the "spinner." Chrome moldings over these small twin channels contribute to the unusual decorative effect.

Mr. Rouck believes that the complete change in frontal appearance and fender treatment will be of special interest to automobile enthusiasts. "It makes the cars look as if they are in motion even when they're standing still," he said.

"Riding and handling qualities are greatly improved, too. These are the result of a number of engineering refinements but are due principally to a modification of Studebaker's balanced chassis to include a new self-stabilizing coil spring front suspension. This involves a new mounting of the front wheels so that they strike road bumps at a retracting angle instead of head-on. In other words, "they roll with the punch." They don't take the full force of the blow.

"Another important change is an increase in the standard compression of both Studebaker engines — the Champion and the Commander—from 6.5 to 1, to 7.0 to 1. This steps up the power and helps gasoline economy without making it necessary to use premium gasolines. Champion brake horsepower is now 85; and the Commander is 102."

Newly designed instrument panels are located about four inches farther forward than previously. Mr. Rouck pointed out, thus providing even greater space in the front compartment. Control switches are the push-pull type and gauges are grouped directly in front of the driver so that they can be checked at a glance. The steering column of the Commander and Land Cruiser is enclosed in an oversize steel jacket.

The Commander tire size has been increased to 7.60 x 15 inches. The Champion is equipped with 6.40 x 15 tires. All Studebaker tires are the extra low pressure type, with wide-base rims.

Cooks '9' Bows To All-Stars

Rough On Bay de Noc Loop Champions

Cooks, Aug. 29—Cooks, champion and pacesetter in the hot little Bay de Noc baseball league since its inception, does all right when the boys come one at a time but when they gang up on an all-star lineup, it's rough!

The league tidbit took it on the chin from a Bay de Noc team of all-stars, 18-3, in the season's windup here yesterday afternoon.

The victors posed 16 safeties, and Charley Camps pitched a seven-hitter for the all-stars. It may have been rough on Cooks but it was sweet revenge for the other teams in the league who enjoyed taking the champs down a peg or two.

Steelers Rap Packers, 9-3

Stan Heath Makes Inauspicious Debut

Cambridge Springs, Pa., Aug. 29 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers returned to training quarters today with a 9-3 exhibition victory over the Green Bay Packers and some new material to bolster the squad.

Newcomers to the National Football league club are Tom Brennan, tackle from Boston College who was with the Chicago Hornets; Bill McPeak, former Pitt end cut loose by the Cleveland Browns during the week-end; and Vic Bonifili, back from West Virginia university.

Jim Finks, passing ace from Oklahoma, wired that he will join the club after the baseball season ends at Columbia, S. C. Stan Heath's debut was inauspicious.

GOLF RAINED OUT

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 29 (AP)—Play in the 49th annual U. S. Amateur Golf tournament was suspended at 8:20 a. m., EST, today because heavy rain left the greens flooded. Eleven of the day's 82 scheduled matches were under way when officials of the United States Golf Association called a halt. When play is resumed all matches will take up at the point at which they were stopped. It began raining in Rochester during the night and just before daybreak came a deluge.

National Net Meet Underway

Schroeder-Gonzales Finale Likely

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 29 (AP)—Having taken turns knocking the daylight out of Australia's Davis Cup players, Ted Schroeder and Pancho Gonzales today started along the path which should bring them together in an epic match at Forest Hills on Labor Day.

Schroeder, holder of the coveted Wimbledon crown, is seeded No. 1 in the National championships. Gonzales, who will be defending the title he won a year ago, is seeded No. 2, and big Pancho is a last-minute entry.

When the Escanaba Upper Michigan Power and Light decided it did not choose to run.

The fast Powers unit disposed of the Negaunee Eagles in the longest game of the tournament. The rivals stood each other off for 17 innings before Big R Cate pushed across a run to win, 1-0.

And in the final Big R slapped Valent's of Ishpeming, 8-2. Likewise, Escanaba district teams fared well in Class C. Escanaba Knights of Columbus defeated Northland B&P of Ironwood, 2-1, before bowing to Escanaba Clairmont's Transfers 15-2. Clairmont's, in turn, were ousted by Valent's of Ishpeming, 2-1.

Nu-Way Taps Paper Mill

Although Liberty Loans went to the finals in Class A and qualified for a trip to the state tournament, Escanaba's Nu-Way covered itself with glory by eliminating Escanaba Paper Mill, a rival of long standing, in a brilliant 2-1 conquest—a no-hit game for Nu-Way's steady chucking Ken Dufresne.

Steve Vugrin, Paper Mill hurler, gave up only two hits. Sidwell limbed from limb to make the final time score 4-1. It took him just an hour—bettering Schroeder's time by five minutes—and the scores were 6-1, 6-3, 6-4.

In order to reach the finals of the eight-day National championships, Gonzales will have to survive a tough bracket which includes such luminaries as John Bromwich and George Worthington of Australia; Eric Sturgess of South Africa, a finalist last year; Felicissimo Ampon of the Philippines; and Frankie Parker, Gardner Mulloy and Art Larsen of this country.

Schroeder's bracket appears not quite so strenuous. His biggest hurdle appears to be Jaroslav Drobny, the left-handed Czech, whom he would meet in his semi-finals. Others in his half are Gianni Cucelli, the Italian Davis Cupper; Sedgman, and Billy Talbot, Earl Cochell and Herbie Flam of the domestics.

Mrs. Margaret Osborne Dupont of Wilmington, Del., is the defending women's champion.

Delta Hardware Girls Defeat Gloves For City Championship

Four home-runs by the Delta Hardware and one by the Married Women featured this game—conducted at Memorial Field yesterday afternoon.

The Deltas defeated Escanaba Gloves in a well-played game, 9-17. Agnes Baribeau, pitching for the victors, pulled an iron-man stunt by winning two games in the tournament. She allowed eight scattered hits and was only in trouble in the 3rd inning when she allowed four runs on three hits—her teammates contributed two errors in that inning. Barbara Jensen hit a home-run—one of her safeties in a game whereby she scored three runs of their total.

Spalding, Powers Nines Grab U. P. Softball Championships

Escanaba Liberty Loans Lose Class A Finals To Negaunee

Ishpeming, Aug. 29 (Special)—Escanaba district softball teams stole a lion's share of the honors in the Upper Peninsula regional softball championship tournament conducted here over the week-end.

Competing in a field of 49 teams, Escanaba district teams won two class championships and was runner-up in the other. It qualified three teams for the state softball tournament.

Escanaba's Liberty Loans were nudged out in the finals of Class A by Negaunee VFW last night, 5-4, after successfully hurdling such obstacles as the Bessemer Anvil club, 8-1; Ishpeming Liberty Loans, 5-3; Bensons Grid of Iron Mountain, 6-2, and Stella of South Range, 6-0.

Spalding in Class B

Meanwhile, Fleetwood Inn of Spalding went all the way to annex the Class B title, blanking Bessemer's Flying Finns, 4-0, in the finals. Pieropon hurled a two-hit game in this encounter. In the semifinals, Fleetwood Inn stopped Escanaba Northland Stores in another shutout, 6-0 and previously they had eliminated Escanaba Steam Laundry, 2-0. The boys up Spalding-way are referring to Fleetwood Inn softballers as the shutout kings these days.

Escanaba Class B teams acquitted themselves well. Enroute to the semifinals, Northland Stores blanked Marquette's Lononites, 10-0, and Bannan Cleaners of Ishpeming, 1-0, and the Steam Laundry ousted the Soo Sportsmen, 3-1, before bumping into the hot Spalding aggregation.

The surprise of the tournament was the strong showing of the Big R Cafe nine of Powers.

Hey—Look At Powers

It was one of those Frank Merriwell deals, no less, for Big R Cafe was a last-minute entry by Escanaba district officials when the Escanaba Upper Michigan Power and Light decided it did not choose to run.

The fast Powers unit disposed of the Negaunee Eagles in the longest game of the tournament. The rivals stood each other off for 17 innings before Big R Cate pushed across a run to win, 1-0.

And in the final Big R slapped Valent's of Ishpeming, 8-2. Likewise, Escanaba district teams fared well in Class C. Escanaba Knights of Columbus defeated Northland B&P of Ironwood, 2-1, before bowing to Escanaba Clairmont's Transfers 15-2. Clairmont's, in turn, were ousted by Valent's of Ishpeming, 2-1.

Nu-Way Taps Paper Mill

Although Liberty Loans went to the finals in Class A and qualified for a trip to the state tournament, Escanaba's Nu-Way covered itself with glory by eliminating Escanaba Paper Mill, a rival of long standing, in a brilliant 2-1 conquest—a no-hit game for Nu-Way's steady chucking Ken Dufresne.

Juel Lee Wins U. P. Senior Golf Meet With Sparkling 41-42-83

By Jim Ward

Juel Lee, veteran Escanaba golfer who has been surprising his golfing mates with his links prowess this season, added the official Upper Peninsula senior championship to his laurels by firing a consistent 41-42-83 in the tournament conducted here Saturday morning and afternoon.

One hundred and seven competitors were in the field. Although delayed an hour because of a heavy downpour of rain Saturday morning, the tournament was held under near-ideal conditions. Considerable comment was heard about the fine condition of the Escanaba course. It was described as being the "best in years."

Blessing In Disguise

Actually, the rain was a blessing in disguise, for it softened the fairways, tees and greens and made the greens more amenable to eight and nine-iron pitch shots. The sun popped out shortly after the rain stopped at 10 and favored the tourney throughout the remainder of the day.

George W. McDermott of the Menominee Riverside club was runner-up to Escanaba's Lee with 42-42-84, and the low net winner was Art Graby, of Menominee North Shore. C. B. Peters of Escanaba was awarded a prize for being the oldest contestant. Mr. Peters is 79 years old.

Scores of prizes were handed out to low gross and low net winners in five different age classifications. Mayor Robert LeMire of Escanaba presided as master of ceremonies during the presentation of awards following the dinner in the clubhouse.

Escanaba's Mike Welch received one of the prizes for having used up the most putts, but the actual number of putts he took was not reported. Mike is a beginner this year at Highland. He already loves the game like the rest of the "oldtimers" (the tourney is for golfers 50 and over), and he intends to concentrate on straightening out his "pull" shot.

Mac Council, chairman of the greens committee, received a special prize for his splendid work on the course.

The tournament was conducted very ably by Richard Knop, local golf professional.

Millers Cross Saints In AA Pennant Chase

By The Associated Press

The St. Paul Saints' first-place margin in the waning American Association race today had been trimmed to four games, thanks to some un-neighboring treatment by the cross-river Minneapolis Millers.

The Millers rallied for a 6-4 win over the Saints Sunday, thus enabling runner-up Indianapolis to gain a full game on the leaders with a 5-4 decision over Louisville.

The other Sabbath encounters, Columbus won its third straight over Toledo, 6-2, to keep a half-game ahead of Minneapolis in their tussle for fifth place, and Milwaukee split at Kansas City in a pair of 6-2 outcomes.

The second Toledo at Columbus game was called off rain, while a schedule nightcap between Indianapolis and Louisville was postponed after one and a half innings because of darkness, and will be played tonight.

Anderson Wins 'A' Trophy In Gladstone

Gladstone, Aug. 29—Roger Anderson won Class A, Wumpy Milwaukee club of Milwaukee smashed Mason Meyer was top man in Class E in the Empson trophy boat race held here yesterday afternoon.

The free-for-all was won by Jack Marble. Class winners will have their names engraved on the handsome new trophy. Lunch was served at the yacht club following the racing program.

Milwaukee Club Barely Beats White Birch '9'

The highly touted Ramazini's Racers club of Milwaukee barely beat White Birch, 12-8, in an exhibition game at Memorial Field last night. In a city league preliminary, People's Bar nipped the Merchants, 5-4.

Teenager With Homemade Boat Steals Show In U. S. Yachting

Chicago, Aug. 29 (AP)—Chicago's Harry G. Nye won the championship, but the whole story in the 1949 International Star Class Yachting meet involved a 19-year-old lad from California in a home-made boat.

In the meet which ended at Belmont harbor Saturday, San Diego's Lowell North, who couldn't afford a hotel room for the week-long meet, sailed first in four of the five races and was second in the other.

But his second race was ruled out because of an infraction and that gave the title to Nye, who didn't score a single first. North got fifth.

North is one of the greatest natural-born sailors ever to pilot the 23-foot star craft, according to veteran nautical observers. The reason he took second in the next to last race was because his home-made boat began to unravel.

But he and his man "crew," Jim Hill, also 19, stayed up half the night and repaired it for a victory in Saturday's closing race.

North, Hill and the latter's dad, drove here for the races with Lowell's boat, North Star II, in a trailer and $125 raised by the San Diego Yacht club. Meals and gas took most of the money, so North and young Hill slept on a boat in Belmont harbor each night and Mr. Hill slept in his car.

It took them 60 hours of driving without sleep in a bed to get here in time for the races in which some of the world's best skippers with the best boats money could buy were entered.

North is a "civil engineering student from San Diego State. Next fall he will enroll at the University of California to complete his engineering studies.

Because of his disqualification, North finished only fifth with 159 points. Nye, the winner, had 182, followed by Robert Lippincott, Riverton, N. J., 177; C. Stanley Ogilvy, Western Long Island Sound, N. Y., 169; and Charles E. Rogers, Jr., Lake Ontario, 166.

Tigers Run Win Streak To Seven

Detroit, Aug. 29 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers who have suddenly developed into fence busters were jubilant today as they surveyed their record of seven straight wins compiled in large part because of 13 home runs.

Pat Mullin's two-run homer in the fourth inning played a large part in the Tigers' 6-4 decision over the Philadelphia Athletics before 30,766 rain-drenched fans yesterday.

It climaxed a week in which the Tiger bats beat their loudest crescendo of the season with Vic Wertz, Aaron Robinson, Eddie Lake and Mullin walloping four-baggers.

And the Rolfe men had hopes of adding more luster to their home run roster tonight as they sent Virgil Trucks (15-10) against Alex Kellner (16-9) of the A's in the windup of the two-game series tonight.

Manager Connie Mack of the A's gambled yesterday when he named Phil Marchildon as his starting pitcher against the Tigers' Art Houtteman.

Marchildon had not started a game since May 30. On that occasion, he hit the first St. Louis batter and walked the second before he was yanked.

Mack played a hunch on Marchildon yesterday, but it didn't pan out.

The Tigers hit Marchildon hard during his 3 1/3 inning stay, getting six runs on six hits and three walks.

Young Bob Shantz, who seems to have some sort of spell over the Tigers, came in to relieve Marchildon and held the Tigers scoreless the rest of the way. Shantz gave up only four hits, two of them very scratchy.

The Tigers concentrated their scoring in two big three-run innings—the third and fourth. Pat Mullin's two-run homer in the third was the big wallop of the Tiger offense.

Houtteman got credit for his 12th victory as against seven losses but he was not as effective as usual. The A's got men on base in practically every inning but left 10 stranded as Houtteman bore down when the need was greatest.

Neil Berry ran his batting streak to nine games as he singled in the fourth inning.

Cracks Ribs Going After Line Drive

By The Associated Press

The New York Yankees won a doubleheader yesterday and picked up a game and a half on the Boston Red Sox, but faced the future today with nothing but gloom.

Unless a miracle happens, the American league leaders will be forced to play the next three weeks without the services of Tommy Henrich, their star outfielder. He may do no more playing this year.

Ward's Store Is Picketed

Employees Not On Strike, However

The Retail Clerks Union, AFL, is picketing the Montgomery Ward store in Escanaba, but the union has emphasized that the dispute over a wage increase has not developed a strike against the company.

The pickets, led by Al Mikso, organizer for the retail clerks union, are carrying banners which read, "We can't even afford to strike". Mikso said the picketing would continue until a satisfactory agreement has been reached.

Company officials said that all of their employees are on duty and that no Ward employees are engaged in picketing. Mikso said that one Ward employee is picketing.

A union truck driver refused to handle freight at the store Saturday but was later picked up by the freight at the request of the truck driver's union. It was explained that no strike has developed and no picket line established.

The union is asking 10 cents an hour wage increase across the board. The company has rejected this demand.

State Police Look For Man Lost On Way To Escanaba

Officers of the Gladstone State Police post have enlisted the aid of Escanaba city police in locating Charles J. Brokefield, 80, of Lansing, who left Lansing July 13 to visit in Manistique and Escanaba. He has not been heard from since, and foul play is suspected.

Brokefield was reported to be carrying from $500 to $800 on his person. He is six feet tall and was wearing a grey suit and hat when last seen. Brokefield's hair is greying and he is partly bald.

ELEVATOR BURNED

Sand Lake (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the three-story Sand Lake elevator Sunday with loss estimated at $50,000. Firemen from Pierson, Howard City, Rockford and Cedar Springs fought the blaze in the wooden structure.

Germfask

Misses Claudine Duncan and Bernice Loscy, students at the Soo beauty school, spent a few days vacation at their homes this week. Mrs. Vernon Lloyd returned to her home Saturday after spending the past five weeks with relatives at Detroit and other points.

Aug. 26 readings were: Escanaba 161; Munising, 7; Newberry, 73; Ontonagon, 95; and on Aug. 27, Manistique had a count of 226 and Powers of 536. Generally speaking a count of 100 or over affects hay fever sufferers.

Train Petition Will Be Heard

Many U. P. Officials To Attend Meeting

A petition recently filed by the Chicago and North Western railway, to discontinue the passenger train from Escanaba to Iron River, making connections with the "400" at Powers, will be heard at a meeting of the Michigan Public Service commission at the courthouse here tomorrow.

Atty. Dennis McGinn has been delegated by the city council to present the city's protest at the meeting. Other Upper Michigan communities, including Iron River, Iron Mountain and Stambaugh, are sending representatives to the meeting, in an effort to keep the "scooter" train running.

Some of the arguments to prevent discontinuing the train are:

(1) The railroad realizes much income in transporting ore from Iron County mines to Escanaba and this income more than offsets any loss the railroad might incur on the "feeder" train.

(2) The railroad has financially taken a great deal from the area the train serves, and should be able to keep one passenger train on its schedule.

(3) The "scooter" is probably the most dilapidated train in service, but is better than no connection with the "400."

(4) The railroad hasn't spent anything in years for improvements on the line and should be able to keep the train in service.

The railroad contends the train must be discontinued because the company is operating at a loss on this line.

Western Nations Map Next Move Against Kremlin

political control is no longer as stable as it was at the time of the Tito break. The satellite countries have encountered consistent economic difficulties and large groups of their people are reported discontented.

Moreover some political factions which have played along with the Communists have been attracted by the Tito success. If ever the Red army was pulled back into Russia they might be inclined to jump the traces on Moscow completely.

Turmoil In Albania

Western diplomats now are beginning to speculate over political developments within Albania. Some American informants say that country, almost isolated from contacts with the west, has been experiencing considerable internal turmoil.

The independence of neighboring Yugoslavia evidently has affected the political atmosphere in Albania considerably, and diplomatic authorities report evidence that Moscow has little confidence in Premier Hoxha.

There seems to be no doubt that if the Western Foreign Ministers can stir up further trouble for the Russians in Eastern Europe they will do so.

3. Western Europe—In terms of industrial production, the Marshall Plan countries are far along the road to recovery. But this has not been accompanied by equal success in speeding trade and knocking down tariff barriers. Moreover, responsible officials here are beginning to wonder seriously whether the Europeans will be able to stand on their own feet by the time American recovery aid ends in 1952.

Britain's dollar shortage is the worst of a series of economic troubles which Western Europe will have to lick before the cold war battle can be said to be won in the west.

On the whole, however, top officials of the Truman administration still appear reasonably confident that the Marshall Plan can do most—if not all—of the job of European recovery, provided measures can be found in the next few months to deal successfully with the British economic crisis.

Week End Accidents Kill 19 In Michigan

(By The Associated Press)

Death took an unusually high toll on Michigan's highways, rivers and lakes this weekend. At least 19 persons died.

Ten died in traffic accidents and 22 others were injured. Rain that made some streets slippery was believed to have caused a number of the crashes.

Lake squalls took the lives of seven persons who were caught in small boats. Four farmhands drowned in Pickerel Lake when their fishing boat overturned.

Rescue operations saved another party of four from a similar fate in Saginaw Bay. They clung to the mast of their sail boat for 24 hours until help arrived.

The other victims were a Detroit man who burned to death when his sofa caught fire from a lighted cigaret, and an 86-year-old man, also a Detroit, who was injured fatally when he fell out a second story window.

BURNED TO DEATH

Fenton, (AP)—Robert Obenshain, about 30, of Fenton, burned to death Sunday when he was trapped in his overturned car. The auto went out of control on Tuller Road two miles from Fenton.

Two Held In Killing Of Pikeville, Ky. Girl

Pikeville, Ky., Aug. 29 (AP)—Two men—one the member of a prominent family and the other a carnival worker—awaited examining trials today, each charged with murder in connection with the fatal beating of a pretty high school cheerleader.

Leo Justice, latest suspect to be drawn into the slaying of 17-year-old Murial Baldrige June 27, was being held in Pike county jail for authorities in adjoining Floyd county, where the crime occurred. Justice, member of a widely known family here, denied Saturday he knew anything about the case after telling Pike Sheriff D. C. Moore earlier that he was present when Miss Baldrige was killed. He related that he struck her with a tire tool.

William Gamble, 26, signed a statement last week that he and Olen Collins, 15, clubbed the girl after forcing her into an automobile. He later repudiated that statement, but is being held in an undisclosed eastern Kentucky jail on a charge of murder. Collins is in custody as a material witness.

War Veterans To Get Insurance Dividends On 20,000,000 Policies

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—This is dividend application day for 16,000,000 veterans of World War II.

Postoffices and veterans offices throughout the world — start handing out dividend application forms to the ex-GIs today.

Actual dividend payments will not start until next January.

The forms will signify the veteran's desire to share in the $2,800,000,000 dividend to be paid next year on about 20,000,000 National Service Life Insurance policies.

The policies are those taken out between Oct. 8, 1940, and Jan. 1, 1948, and which were effective for three months or longer.

Beneficiaries of veteran-policyholders who have died also will receive dividend checks next year, but they should not apply. Their payments are being handled under a different system.
